Maloney School opening attracts large crowd

The gym at Vincent J. Maloney Junior High School was well filled for the official opening of the school last Wednesday evening and the people were welcomed by master of ceremonies and principal of the school, John Kaminski.

"There is no doubt this facility will have a positive impact on the staff and students here," said Mr. Kaminski. We recognize that milk can be homogenized but children cannot, he added, and so we have a varied program at the school, which would not be possible without a dedicated staff. "In a sense," he said, "schools are in competition with many agencies - the home, church, minor hockey, dancing schools, television. So schools must be as attractive as possible and also keep up to date. But as long as Elvis Presley makes as much in one year as all our district staff, about 200, we are not in too strong a position in the competition.

Mr. Kaminski expressed appreciation of the many people who had helped in the planning and construction of the school, including maintenance supervisor Tony Viveiros, Bob Chaput, purchasing agent, and "my

"The school, if it is to survive, must never abandon its values," said Mr. Vincent Maloney, speaking at the opening of the Vincent J. Maloney Junior High School last Wednesday evening. Platform guests Dr. Bill Zielinski, left, John Kaminski, Ted Baldwin, George Soetaert and Steve Sieben may be seen in background. Others were Mr. Chernenko, Father Jake Joly, Alan Blair, Ernie Jamison and Sylvia Walsh.

New town planning commission likely

The Town of St. Albert is thinking about setting up a municipal planning board to "increase the effectiveness of dealing with planning and subdivision" within the town.

At an organizational meeting in council chambers last Monday night town council expressed some fears that they may be operating an autonomous giant similar to the MPC which operates in Calgary; in general though council seems to agree in principle about the need for a municipal planning commission for St. Albert.

If an MPC is established Councillors Barry Breadner and Margaret Smith are slated for it with Coun. Throndson picking up Parks and Recreation and Curling from Coun. Breadner. The commission would consist of from five to six members, about half from the public and with Mayor Dick Plain acting as the go between for the MPC and the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission.

But more in-depth discussion on the MPC seems likely before the town makes

Council decide improved meeting schedule

At its organizational meeting last Monday night St. Albert town council ratified what form its meetings should take for the future.

Council carried a motion introduced by Councillor Myrna Fyfe which will see council sit on the first and third Mondays of each month for its regular meeting.

The committee of the whole will sit every second

A WASTE OF good moose hide; this hide was dumped on private property at a point on 156th Street just southeast of the Newman Theological College. RCMP and Fish and Game officials are always on the look-out for such incidents. A $50 fine is the minimum for any littering offence like this one. But the best thing to do with your moose hide is to have it cured and tanned. If you must leave it outdoors, then look for a proper "garbage" dump.

Moose hide litter "sickening"

Littering will always be regarded as the sign of an untidy wasteful society but when the littering extends to dumping moose hides on private property it gets a bit much.

There have been three cases of this in the past week alone west Edmonton resident and developer Joe Sheckter said this week.

Mr. Sheckter owns property in the St. Albert area at points on 156th and 149th streets.

He has informed the St. Albert detachment of the RCMP about the moose hide whipping boy - and vice-principal" - Art Perrott.

Mr. Steve Sieben, chairman of the school district, said he was happy to have so many people present and extended a special welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Maloney. Saying that it was his first experience with building a new school, Mr. Sieben expressed the board's thanks to the many people who contributed expertise, time, effort and skills and thanked the ratepayers for supporting the money bylaw. The teachers had a tremendous input into the school he noted, and the board realizes that they put up with very crowded conditions last year. Mr. Sieben also paid tribute to former board members, Dave Fraser and Al Gagnon for their contribution.

He briefly reviewed the planning from the first statement of need in 1972 until construction began in October, 1974, to final inspection and occupation in August, 1975. "I trust all who use the building will enjoy it and respect it," added Mr. Sieben. He then introduced front row guests, board members, Mr. Howrish, Mr. Freeman, Elsie Lockert and Sylvia Walsh, (on platform), and Mr. John McDonnel, chairman of Sturgeon School Division. A letter of congratulation was read from Mayor Plain, out of town for the municipalities convention.

Mr. Jack Bauman represented District 6, who were meeting that night. Mr. Bauman said he had a primary school due to open (the Ron Harvey School) which was designed on much the same concept. "We will have some problems and perhaps Mr. Kaminski and I can get together," he added. Mr. Bauman congratulated District 3 and offered best wishes on behalf of District 6.

TRIBUTE TO MR. MALONEY

"I told Vince the day would come when I would have him at my mercy," said George Soetaert, deputy superintendent, called upon to introduce Mr. Maloney. "He is truly professional educator whom we honour with the name of our school. In 1963 Mr. Maloney became the first superintendent of our district, which he saw grow from two to six schools and from a staff of 22 to 117. His real enjoyment was the opportunity to work with different people from various sectors of society, said George. And while he always gave the credit to others, the trustees and staff knew where the leadership was really provided. Mr. Soetaert said that Vince was able to recognize the potential for outstanding work and contributed much to the district by hiring the best people - teachers, staff, maintenance people.

Vince placed emphasis on all grades from early childhood up, said Mr. Soetaert. He brought in remedial reading, guidance counselling, (and was himself an able counsellor), he made arrangements for special classes for those having difficulty, put special stress on libraries - all programs introduced early in this district. By special arrangements, said Mr. Soetaert, Mr. Maloney got vocational training for our students at St. Joseph's school, bilingual education at Grandin and Picard schools, and early childhood programs through consultation with the Parish Kindergarten. He also set up the first Instructional Materials Centre.

Mr. Soetaert also spoke of Mr. Maloney's fine qualities which enabled him to get along well with people he worked with. A keen memory which enabled him to draw on life's experiences to help explain difficult situations, an ability to handle irate people, and a sense of humour which made for happy relations. He was a patient and shrewd negotiator added Mr. Soetaert and in the area of decision-making he was outstanding.

He spoke also of his hobbies, his wife and family, who have contributed their share to society, noting that Mr. Maloney dislikes the work retirement, and is continuing to be involved in the community. "I can't think of any other individual more deserving of having his name for this school, concluded Mr. Soetaert. Mr. Maloney was given a standing ovation.

VINCE REPLIES

"This is a very happy occasion for me," said Mr. Maloney. Perhaps I would say only one other that would exceed it - the day we were married." It is a wonderful thing to be involved in the kind of things connected with school business, he said. "With regards to the achievements of the district, they are due to a great many people and a tremendous team effort." He recalled the days when architects went to a file cabinet for school plans and schools were built all over to a standard plan - not recognizing differing needs. Saying that it was hard to single out any single person's contribution to the district Mr. Maloney said "we got things because the board helped us to get them" and I would just like to say that the patience, tact and understanding of former chairman, Dave Fraser was unequalled in the district."

"The school if it is to survive," said Vince, and what the school stands for, must never abandon its values. Organizations and people who do not cling to worthwhile values will not succeed. I owe a great deal to the District," he concluded, "and I am overwhelmed - this is something I did not expect and I am delighted."

Ted Baldwin, introducing Architect George Chernenko, said that he was the fellow who translated the input of many committees into a one million, four hundred thousand dollar building. He commended Mr. Chernenko for maintaining his careful scrutiny and supervision through the project. In reply Mr. Chernenko said it was gratifying to be involved in all stages of the design and construction and gave credit to contractor Marshall Lee and job superintendent Ralph Stienke, along with the sub-contractors for the fact that the building was completed on time - "a novelty these days."

ALAN BLAIR FILLS IN FOR M.P.

Mr. Alan Blair, filling in at the request of MP Marcel Lambert, was introduced by Trustee Sylvia Walsh. Mr. Blair presented Mr. Lambert's good wishes and said it was an honour to take part in the program. He congratulated all who played a part in adding this new facility, indicating the progress of the District. He recalled St. Albert's first school - the old brick school built in 1909 which served until 1958. In the less than 20 years new schools have been built, many people have done much, but all would agree that Mr. Maloney, during his term was a model of integrity, dedication and efficiency. Mr. Blair concluded with congratulations to Mr. Maloney.

Father Jake Joly dedicated the new building with a thoughtful and meaningful prayer.

Dr. Bill Zielinski, superintendent introduced Ernie Jamison who was present as MLA and representative of Julian Koziak, minister of education.

WORK GETHER SAYS M.L.A.

Mr. Jamison spoke of the huge rate of increase in provincial spending for education since 1971, saying that when that rate of increased spending is projected 10 years down the road, it becomes clear that "we have to apply some brakes." One way to control costs, he added, is by building community core schools like this one. Referring to a recent two-year study done in the greater San Francisco school region, to determine how to approve student achievement scores which had been dropping in the area, he said it was found that neither the calibre of school buildings, nor the amount spent per child on education could be realted to the achievement scores of children. So he felt education costs can be controlled while improving the quality of education, and that everyone interested in education should work together to this end.

He spoke of two concepts for which Mr. Vince Maloney had supported throughout his 20 years in education: "Bringing people closer to schools" and "Recognition of the uniqueness of each child." To make these two concepts work Mr. Jamison again encouraged people to make a contribution to education whether in a large way, such as serving as trustees, or in small ways of involvement in the education system.

The MLA brought good wishes from Minister Julian Koziak and asked Principal John Kaminski to accept for the school a Provincial flag, a picture and an Alberta Atlas for the library. Other presentations were a picture of Mr. Maloney by Trustee Sylvia Walsh on behalf of the Board, and a beautiful bouquet of roses for Mrs. Jean Maloney, "in appreciation of the sacrifices you have made in order that Mr. Maloney could contribute as much as he has," said Mrs. Walsh.

Mr. Jamison cut the ribbon to declare the building officially open and was presented with engraved scissors as a momentum of the occasion. A tour of the school and coffee for the visitors concluded the evening.

The school comprises 48-700 square feet, 42,000 as permanent and eight portable classrooms. Total cost was 1.4 million dollars.

any attempt to draw up a bylaw which would bring it into being.

Town administrator Robert Byron has been studying how several other planning commissions work in large urban centres in the province.

Basically the new commission would approve development applications conforming to existing zoning and study outline plans within St. Albert.

Coun. Breadner said that he felt better after reviewing the proposal and he supported the MPC in principle. Councillor Frank Lukay felt that detailed criteria would be needed for the commission's operation.

One advantage of the commission thought Mayor Dick Plain was that it might act as a buffer to "skip" developments brought before the town.

MPC meetings would probably be held in-camera but the body would not have authority to give subdivision approval.

Councillor Margaret Smith said that she found the "general parameters" of the commission acceptable, though she wanted to see the body kept small. As far as she could see it, the commission would have the authority to bring contentious issues before town council.

Councillor Rod Throndson said he favoured the commission in principle, but he hoped that it would not be a group that would take authority away from council. As long as an effective bylaw was drawn up then he could accept the commission being formed.

Councillor Myrna Fyfe liked the idea of citizen participation, but did not want to see the commission acting as an appeal board as this would cause more democratic red tape.

She felt that there might be certain frustrations if the commission were not responsible to the electorate.

Mayor Plain was hopeful that the commission would help streamline the administrative and planning processes in a presentable package.

"Perhaps the planning commission will bring in the diamond which needs polishing," the mayor added.

The topic of the MPC will come up at the next regular meeting of council, November 10 for further airing.

HISTORY OF SERVICES

This show will be the first of its kind held in Alberta. The Preventive Social Services Branch of the Government of Alberta was set up in 1967 as a means of harnessing social energy primarily through volunteer action. Funding is provided by a cost-sharing arrangement with the federal, provincial and municipal governments (of which the municipality contributes 20 per cent of the deficit). St. Albert first hired a Preventive Social Services Director in 1968. Since then, a number of on-going programs have been established, such as: Homemakers Services, Mother's Day Out, Day Care Centre, Meals on Wheels, Defensive Driving Course, Pedal Pushers, Block Parents, Youth Projects.

The main purpose of the show is to acquaint people with social services programs operating in St. Albert, which have been established by residents to increase the resources of their own community. Those coming to the show can find out about opportunities for participation.

out of administrative meetings and he wants them to deal partly with "individuals and personalities in town."

Councillor Frank Lukay said he wished to devote the evening set aside for administrative meetings for discussions with boards; and possibly administrative matters could come up at the end of the meeting.

Mayor Dick Plain wanted to keep the committee of the whole meeting for regular topics and wished to retain the strength of that committee for debates on specific topics. He did not want it to be a dry run of a regular council meeting. In this way he said the town could make more efficient use of its time.

Wherever possible the mayor said he still wanted to get input from "several individuals" though this had proved impossible because of demands on time.

Monday and as an innovation, so that town council can make better use of its meetings, there will be an administrative meeting every fourth Monday.

Meetings will continue to begin at 7:30 p.m., and they will finish at 11 p.m., unless otherwise indicated by a show of hands.

The fifth Monday of each period is not officially scheduled for a council sitting.

Councillor Rod Throndson didn't want to shut the public ointed to the Sturgeon River Basin Committee which could be functioning in the next year.

Coun. Smith will look after the Safety Committee. Coun. Breadner will continue to head the committee for the construction of the recreation complex. Councillors Throndson and Fyfe will head up the new Civic Centre Committee.

Coun. Smith will look after the Sturgeon Foundation, and Coun. Wetsch Curling with Coun. Throndson as alternate. Coun. Wetsch will continue to report on the Police Commission. Coun. Smith will head the Sturgeon Health Unit Committee.

These appointments are to take effect immediately beginning with the next administrative committee meeting.

Council also passed a motion that town boards will elect a new chairman annually.

Local boy dies following accident on hazardous road

It was a bad weekend on roads throughout Alberta with six fatalities province-wide and many accidents of the fender bender type in Edmonton and St. Albert.

Injuries received in an accident Saturday night on a treacherous St. Albert Trail resulted in the death of Robert Gilbertson, 17, of 8 Grandville Place on Tuesday in the Royal Alexandra Hospital.

The accident involved a two-car pile-up at 11:50 p.m. on Saturday, October 25, just .2 miles north of 137th Avenue. Robert was driving northbound in a Toyota and RCMP blame the icy road conditions for the accident, which caused $3,300 damage to the vehicles. With Robert were two other young St. Albert residents: Neil MacLeod, 16, of Larose Drive and Keith Reeves, 17, of Lawrence Crescent. Both sustained only minor injuries. Robert was taken to the Royal Alex in serious condition. The young people were on their way home from a show in the city.

Two city residents were in the other vehicle. Neither were seriously hurt. They were Dennis Prunkal and a passenger Lillian Marie Laplante both of Edmonton.

RCMP are asking any witnesses of this accident to come forward to help them in their investigations.

A second major accident involved four St. Albert youths on the equipment crew for Pitch and Spice who were returning from a concert by the choir at Fort Saskatchewan. They were Neil Wenger of Burnham Place, driver of the car, Tom Colville of Glenmore Crescent, Jim Scheibelhofer of Greenbrier Crescent and Richard Lukay of Balmoral Drive. The other choir members had left earlier by bus and the crew stayed to set up for a second performance Sunday at the Fort.

Tom, Jim and Richard were taken to the Royal Alexandra Hospital while Neil stayed till the police arrived and then was taken to Sturgeon General and released that night. Jim Scheibelhofer was transferred to the Sturgeon General on Sunday, Richard was released Sunday and Tom on Monday from the Royal Alex and Jim was released Tuesday.

The accident occurred on Highway 28 at 12:30 a.m., October 26 one mile north of an overpass.

A north and southbound vehicle were involved in this accident which caused about $3,000 worth of damage to both vehicles.

Police say that apparently the car with the St. Albert boys spun around and then collided with a southbound vehicle. They have no particulars on the occupants of the second car.

Icy conditions over last weekend took many motorists by surprise and there was a corresponding rise in the accident rate for that period in the St. Albert area.

A spokesman for the RCMP in St. Albert said there were about 17 accidents from the fender bender type to a more serious nature. The accident rate for last weekend was about three times what it is for a normal weekend.

Snow swept down over the St. Albert Trail late Saturday night making that road into an ice rink.

HOW HIGH DO YOU THINK A PACKAGE OF CIGARETTES COULD BE PRICED BEFORE BUYERS DECIDED IT WAS TOO EXPENSIVE TO SMOKE?

MARGARET CHALCROFT

"If it was $2 for a pack of cigarettes, the cost may encourage a smoker to stop the habit," she said. "But I've never smoked, so I don't really know. If a smoker wants to smoke, he'll smoke no matter how much it costs."

MRS. LYNNE NICHOLSON
3 Akins - Mother

"The price probably will go up to $2, but many smokers still won't quit -- they're so addicted," she said. "Hopefully they'd at least cut down though, and stop polluting the world."

Mrs. Nicholson is a non-smoker who says she was teased into trying it once. "Rather than be ostracized by my friends, I tried it," she said, "but didn't like it at all.

"And at that time the 'cancer scare' from smoking came out. Smokers don't realize what they're doing to their own bodies."

BILL BERBENAK
4 Spruce - Sales Manager

"I stopped smoking six years ago because I wasn't enjoying it," he said. "So, I don't pay that much attention to people who smoke today.

"But I guess smokers would keep smoking as long as they could afford to. I don't think they'd even stop and think to cut down once they got used to higher cigarette prices."

KEN ERMANTROUT
72 Grosvenor - theatre mgr.

"I smoked 1½ packs a day before I quit 11 months ago," he said. "Smoking started giving me headaches.

"It's the same as liquor -- addicts never quit until their deteriorating health progress gets through to them.

"They may slow down their smoking because of higher prices at first, but not long after they'll be right back smoking as much as they did before."

KERRY LaPERLE
1 Gordon - Gr. 9 Student

"I started smoking about three years ago, but if it costs more than $1 for a pack of cigarettes -- I'll quit.

"I only smoke about five cigarettes a day, so I don't mind paying 90 cents a pack."

MRS. JEANNE ANDERSON
43 Lambert - Housewife

"I don't know if I'd quit if it costs more for cigarettes," she said. "I said I was going to quit years ago when it cost 50 cents a pack.

"But I only smoke a pack every two days, so even though I don't like paying more for cigarettes, I'll be like other smokers and not quit.

"No matter how high the tobacco people could raise the price of cigarettes, they'll never lose money because not that many smokers would quit."

The Gazette
REFLECTS
The Freeze Continues

The good weather construction has come and gone for 1975 and the "wait for Abbey Glen" policy has continued to hold up other commercial and business development. The 45 days granted by council to Abbey Glen last April to work out basic terms of an agreement for the first stage of a major shopping complex has stretched to 184 days.

If an agreement with Abbey Glen was ratified August 25th as it was reported in the media was to be done, why haven't the details been made public?

The economic climate has changed and the large department chains have announced only minimal new stores for 1976 - most of those in central Canada or Vancouver.

Meanwhile the indoor double-theatre proposal by Darene Holdings has not gone ahead, lacking council approval. IGA and a smaller department store did not get anywhere with their investigation into locating stores in either the downtown or Ball Estate areas.

The town continues to purchase land downtown, and to make offers to purchase at prices reported in the $6 per square foot range. Details of these purchases or offers have not been described at regular meetings of council. Prices in this range inflate property values, making commercial development more difficult to attract. Many hundreds of thousands of dollars have been invested by the town in the downtown core, and taxpayers are paying thousands of dollars each month on interest on the borrowed money.

The only plan for downtown core development so far as can be ascertained, is a new Town Hall. This development will return no revenue, but rather place a burden on the taxpayer. There are those who recall that the present Town Hall was planned to accommodate another level, and wonder if the opinion of several knowledgeable firms have been sought in this regard.

Traffic and parking problems continue to plague downtown businessmen, along with uncertainty about the future of the area, and there are some businessmen who do not have confidence to plan expansion.

Yet an attractive, interesting downtown area requires a variety of shops, coffee houses and entertainment to keep it lively in the evenings.

It is hoped that council will shortly make known the situation for the Abbey Glen complex, with related plans for highway widening and bridge construction together with cost estimates. And that details will soon be forthcoming on the commercial development planned for the downtown core and Ball Estate areas.

On another subject, what is the situation with the proposed major regional multi-purpose recreation complex, which the mayor was quoted as saying, in an August 12th news report, might not get under construction until October? We hope council will soon be holding discussions at regular meetings on this matter as well.

Bicycle thieves

Do you have a bicycle thief living under your roof?

David, our son, got his first bike at the age of five and a half. He took such good care of it, that this year when he'll celebrate his eighth birthday, the bike hadn't a dent or scratch on it. It was put away each night up against our house and was ridden happily nearly every-day the weather permitted.

Until, some rotten person stole it out of our side yard one night last week, kept it for nearly a week at their house, or secretly hidden, then tore it apart and placed the resulting pile of parts up against a tree in the ravine off Sir Winston Churchill Drive towards the Forest Lawn area. They kept the back wheel only.

How could a parent not be aware of their child bringing home bike parts, or keeping a bright orange - All Pro mustang bike in their yard or garage?

We checked the ravines, so we know the bike was kept somewhere for at least a week.

How can I explain to our son about people like you and your kids? How can I tell him why this happened to him, when he worked so hard to take care of his property.

You should have seen him when I told him about his bike being reduced to a pile of garbage. Mouth trembling, eyes filled with tears, asking, "Why?...."

Too much of this kind of thing is happening and too many parents are ignoring it. It's not as if the child who took the wheel couldn't afford to buy the bike parts ...not in this area!

For the moment I have the problem of showing my little guy his vandalized bicycle, while you have another, bigger problem ... noticing whether your child has brought home a stolen wheel with a "Million" trade mark, nylon, 20x1.75 markings on the tire ... before he graduates to bigger "game." Here's hoping you care enough to find out...

N. Hembroff,
Forest Lawn.

Misquoted

Whenever I have written articles or letters to your newspaper, I have always taken time and have put a considerable amount of thought into what was written. I feel this is not so with your reporter. I feel he has grossly misquoted me.

I am referring to your article on "Better Ambulance Service." The statement implies that I feel the Sturgeon General Hospital doesn't have facilities to treat accident cases and that it is poorly equipped. What a ridiculous statement! I can assure you that is not what I said!

I feel the Sturgeon General is excellent and there is no doubt in my mind that in the event of an accident I would have no hesitation in using its facilities. I have the utmost confidence in their staff and know that if the situation warranted it I would be sent to a specialist - probably by ambulance.

In future I can assure you that I will stay clear of all Gazette reporters.

A time to remember war dead

It will be 50 years since scores of veterans groups and battalion associations banded together, following World War 11, to unite under the banner of the Canadian Legion, and shortly thereafter granted the Royal Charter, to become known as the Royal Canadian Legion, in 1926.

The year 1976 will be known as the Royal Canadian Legion "Golden Anniversary" year, and St. Albert Branch (Alta.) #271 is getting prepared to do its part to show its flag.

The advent of the 50th anniversary will be marked all over the country with the blossoming of the Golden Yellow Tulip of which some five and a half million have been planted.

St. Albert town and its citizens have planted bulbs to welcome the Golden Anniversary Year. The slogan "Old Torch  New Flame" will be widely heard, and the sod is being broken for a spanking new Legion Memorial Hall, planned to be opened in the new spring.

But Tuesday, November 11, 1976, will mark yet another yearly remembrance of those who will not have seen the past 50 years, or parts of it. For their end of life came in the bloody trenches of Flanders Fields of World War 1, or the holocaust that was World War 11, or the United Nations action which became known as the Korean War, or the "peacekeeping" actions in the Congo, Cyprus, Viet Nam, Egypt, India and Pakistan, and anywhere else in the world where Canadians were called.

To perpetuate their memory, and to enunciate again the causes and reason for their sacrifice, veterans of all these conflicts will march to their cenotaph to remember them. And the citizens of the country will gather to pay their respects while in grateful thoughtfulness, those who remember, will reflect that they have been spared, in their time.

And the more youthful of the nation will view it all, and while some will have been told what it is all about, others will wonder.

Officiating at the Ceremony of Remembrance at the St. Albert Cenotaph to the War dead, at the corner of Sir Winston Churchill Avenue and Perron Street, will be the Reverend Leonard Musto, the Legion's branch chaplain, and a war veteran himself, assisted by other denominational representatives.

Attending at the ceremony will be representatives of the province, the town and legion dignitaries. MLA for St. Albert, Comrade Ernie Jamison will lay a wreath on behalf of the Province of Alberta; His Worship Mayor Richard Plain will do so on behalf of the town. All organizations and community groups are invited to participate in whatever manner each wishes.

The Royal Canadian Legion, members and its auxiliaries, military units and other organizations will congregate at the Grandin Shoppers Park at 10:30 a.m., and will march off to arrive at the Cenotaph shortly before 11 o'clock on November 11. Poppy wreaths will be laid following the service, first by the official party, the service clubs, followed by representatives of business establishments and private citizens.

Following the service, the veterans will march past, and the salute will be taken by Lt. Col. Gebauer, commanding officer, of the 25th Field Regiment, the militia unit based at the Prince of Wales Armories. The Royal Canadian Legion will host an open house to the participants after completion of this parade.

Council Briefs

Following are some of the highlights from the organizational meeting of the St. Albert town council Monday night. Mayor Dick Plain was in the chair and all councillors were present.

** ** **

COUNCIL GAVE THIRD reading to Bylaw 28/75 amending Bylaw 23/67. The bylaw deals with water rates in the Town of St. Albert.

A section of the bylaw was amended to clarify that repairs to water systems incurred through normal use will be repaired at the town's expense. Those incurred through negligence will be dealt with at cost.

** ** **

MAYOR DICK PLAIN suggested that the town send its deficits on the water utility to head of the Prices and Incomes Board Jean Luc Pepin.

He suggested that Edmonton do the same thing, that is let the board know of its increases in water rates. Mayor Plain felt that this would be in line with the current national struggle against inflation.

** ** **

CRUCIAL QUESTIONS on the financing of St. Albert's proposed multi-purpose recreation facility are expected to come up at next Monday's council meeting. The town knows that it is facing crucial deadlines on this issue over the next three months.

Mayor Plain said that the town would be in a position to bring the examination of the financial implications "of the amount council will ask of the citizenry." He added that a decision, giving the green or red light must be made one way or the other.

St. Albert Safety Council to participate in Social Services show

At their October 23 meeting, the St. Albert Safety Council finalized plans for their part in the social services show - upcoming on Friday, November 7 and Saturday, November 8.

The Safety Council booth will have information on all the regular Safety Council projects -- Pedal Pushers, the Block Parent program and the Defensive Driving courses.

Members of the Safety Council will be on hand to answer questions and give any additional information required on the work done by the Safety Council. Local members of the Canadian Red Cross will staff the section on water safety, and have an interesting program planned.

The TV show to be presented on Cable 11, with representatives from all social services groups, has been postponed, and will now take place on Thursday, November 6.

SCHOOL BUS BRIEF

A meeting has been arranged to prepare this, and the brief should be ready for presentation in early November.

BLOCK PARENTS

Lawrence Johnson reported an average of three new applications per week -- approximately 30 since the literature was handed out to the school children. Not all of these have yet been processed by the RCMP. While this is encouraging, still more Block Parents are needed.

DEFENSIVE DRIVING

The next course begins on Tuesday, November 4. It will be held in Room 109, Paul Kane High School at 7 p.m., on four successive Tuesdays; November 4, 11, 18 and 25, each session lasting two hours. The fee is $12 and registration will take place at the first session on November 4. For information call Stan Mill at 459-4626.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

The annual general meeting will be held at 8 p.m. on Thursday, November 13 at Robert Rundle School, Grosvenor Blvd. This meeting is open to the general public and it is hoped as many as possible will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear what has been accomplished during the past year.

HOW SAFE ARE YOU!

It isn't the car that steps on the gas, and causes an accident, trying to pass -- IT'S THE DRIVER.

A car may be bent and twisted awry, but it isn't the car that will have to die -- IT'S THE DRIVER.

Be a safe winter driver -- slow down, avoid sudden manoeuvres and drive defensively by recognizing the hazards, understanding the defenses and acting in time. How ready were YOU for that first snow?

Calling all newcomers

Don't miss this month's Newcomers Club regular dinner meeting to be held at the St. Albert Community Hall on Tuesday, November 4. This month's after dinner entertainment will be an interesting and varied fashion show, compliments of Stretch Couture. Another good reason for attending is because the Christmas Party tickets will be on sale. The dance is scheduled for Saturday, December 6 at the Community Hall and tickets are value priced at $15 a couple. Refreshments will be served from 6:30 to 7:30. Buffet at 7:30 and dancing to the Three Sharps at 9 p.m.

AROUND TOWN

Jean Kane hosted a neighbourhood farewell coffee party last Wednesday for Thora Millroy who is leaving with the children on Sunday to join Doug in Sault Ste. Marie. Her neighbours presented Thora with a souvenir St. Albert spoon and a camping grill. We understand that Thora likes the word "feted," so with Jean's permission there it is again.

** ** **

Father Colin Levangie was in town last week for the opening of the Maloney school and following the ceremony was kept busy shaking hands and visiting with old friends. He has recently accepted a position at Hobbema, where he will assist another former St. Albertan, Father Andy Boyer.

St. Albert couple exchange vows

A lovely autumn wedding was solemnized in the St. Albert United Church on Saturday, October 4 when Donna Lynn Harvie exchanged wedding vows with Douglas D. Kane. Rev. Leonard Musto performed the double ring ceremony for the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Harvie of St. Albert and the third son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kane from Spruce Grove.

Organist Diane Wright played the wedding music. Mrs. Lauriane McElhinney, cousin of the bride, was the soloist and sang The Wedding Prayer previous to the bride entering the church. A basket of glads and arrangements of white daisies adorned the church and pews were marked with blue and white bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother who accompanied her down the aisle. She was radiant in a beautiful gown of nylon sheer, featuring a low scooped neckline, long full sleeves with dainty embroidery and appliques which also enhanced the full skirt. Her delicately embroidered veil, held in place by a dainty lace headpiece, covered the long full skirt. Her bouquet consisting of red roses, white stephanotis, blue baby's breath and tiny red rosebuds falling from streamers carried on a white bible presented to her at the age of nine years by her grandmother, Mrs. J. L. Harvie.

Attending the bride were Lia Commandeur, close friend of the bride, as maid of honor; Sherry Kane, sister of the groom and Lorri Porter, cousin of the bride. The flower girl was Robin Kane, niece of the groom. The girls wore identical dresses of blue printed nylon sheer. In their hair they wore a halo of white daisies. Their only jewellery was a dainty sterling silver necklace and earrings to match, a gift from the bride. The bridesmaids flowers were hand bouquets of white daisies and blue baby's breath.

Best men Bob Coles, Les Martin and Don Mitchell, close friends of the groom looked distinguished in their black tuxedos complimented by blue ruffled shirts and white carnation boutonnieres The ring-bearer Master Donald Pickle, close friend of the bride's family, carried the rings on a white satin pillow which featured red rosebuds falling from streamers.

Ushers were Brian Harvie, brother of the bride, and Bob Carlson friend of both the bride and groom.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Irma Harvie, looked lovely in a blue nylon gown featuring a v-neck and full skirt. Her corsage was an orchid. The groom's mother, Mrs. Cassey Kane chose a deeper blue fortrel with a blue floral jacket and matching floral panels down the front of the dress. She also wore an orchid.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Lauriane McElhinney sang We've Only Just Begun. Upon leaving the church the bride paused to present her mother, grandmother and mother-in-law each with a red rose from her bouquet.

A reception was held at the Captain's Cabin. Miss Sue Howard from Vancouver was in charge of the guest book. Mr. Tim Kane ably performed the duties of master of ceremonies. Following Grace by the Rev. Musto he called upon Mr. Bruce Porter, Donna's uncle, who toasted the bride and Doug Kane for the reply. Toast to the bridesmaids was given by Bob Coles. Music for the dance which followed was supplied by The Generations. Before leaving Donna tossed her bouquet, caught by Sherry Kane and Doug tossed the garter which was procured by Dale McElhinney.

Out of town guests included friends and relatives from Calgary, Vancouver, Burnaby, Edmonton, Lacombe, Marwayne, Streamstown, Clive, Namao, Sherwood Park, Morinville, Spruce Grove and St. Albert. A telegram from Hudson Hope, B.C. was read. The happy newlyweds are making their home in St. Albert.

For young students learning outdoors is great!

Moving classrooms out-of-doors has become an increasingly common occurrence in urban education. Vital Grandin's 92 grade five students had a chance recently to do just that and loved every minute of it - sleet included!

The students participated a five day outdoor education experience made possible through contributions from the Alberta Government, St. Albert School District #3 and the parents of the children in grade five. The students, seven teachers and several community-spirited volunteer parents left Vital Grandin at 9:30 a.m., Monday, October 6 and travelled to the YMCA's Camp Keewaydin on Lake Wabamun. Until Friday the students were involved in such curricula oriented activities as nature study (plant and animal communities; pond study), orienteering, outdoor crafts, overnight camp-out, canoeing and archery. As well, Calgary Power provided an informative tour of the nearby Sundance power generating plant.

Some parents have the mistaken idea that outdoor education is primarily recreation-oriented. While this can be the case, the Vital Grandin staff points to their main objectives for outdoor education:

1) To develop skills, investigative techniques, understandings and appreciations through direct experiences in a natural environment.

2) To observe and carry out practical applications of principles and concepts studied in the classroom.

3) To learn the skills as well as the safety and environmental precautions involved in outdoor recreation such as hiking, camping, boating and survival out-of-doors.

4) To give children an opportunity to develop deeper social relationships among themselves and with adults in a natural environment and to enhance their sense of belonging to and being accepted in a group.

The major obstacle encountered by the Vital Grandin Outdoor Education Committee was that of receiving sufficient volunteer help. While over 25 volunteer parents were involved at various times during the week, Garry Fix, camp coordinator, conceded "more volunteers would have been helpful, Those that came were just great but when you consider that you have seven teachers in charge of 92, 10 and 11 year olds for a five day period the number of parent volunteers becomes crucial to the success of the program."

All in all the project was considered to be a success, especially by the 92 exuberant students. One student was overheard saying "Aw - do we have to go home?" on his way to the bus Friday. It seems that he hadn't showered all week and was dreading the "warm" reception that his mother undoubtedly gave him.

Instructor Bonar Irving shows young students how to use a compass as part of the orienteering studies during outdoor education week for Vital Grandin school. Use of maps was also introduced and the course related to both math and social studies programs, and a lead to more advanced study of the subject in later grades.

Students at Vital Grandin Elementary School were provided with nets to capture specimens of animals and insects as they were introduced to pond study during outdoor education week. Samples of plant and animal life were taken inside for study in test tubes and under microscopes and the children learned how plants and animals live together in a pond. Log books were kept, as in all the studies, for later use in the classroom.

AROUND TOWN

Over the years it has been the custom of the St. Albert and District Community League to have a hallowe'en social and dance in the years that hallowe'en falls on a weekend. This gives the grown-ups a chance to get in on the fun of dressing up and prizes will be awarded for the best original costumes. The Golden Altos will be on the bandstand and there are still tickets available. This is an inexpensive evening and always a lot of fun. It is also a good way for newer residents to get acquainted with their community. Phone 459-7003 for tickets.

These wings didn't come easy for a cadet called Vivian

Perseverence finally paid off for one of St. Albert's most determined females. Flight Sergeant Vivian Bendick, of 533 St. Albert Air Cadet Squadron, has reached the highest possible status presently available to those girls known as cadettes. It was only early in 1975 that the cadettes were formally recognized by the Department of National Defence and are now known as cadets. This triumph attained by Vivian Bendick was the awarding of the wings, symbolic of the bearer having qualified as a glider pilot. This honour was won while attending a scholarship course at the military base in Rivers, Manitoba.

The course was difficult and almost as hectic as the procedure Vivian had to endure to qualify for it. During her regular weekly parades she had to pass such subjects as "Theory of Flight, Air Frames, Aero Engines, and Navigation." She considers these equally as difficult as the selection boards, which sat to determine her capabilities, at both squadron and provincial level.

Vivian was the only successful female of the 13 Alberta girls competing for this particular scholarship. When the results were finally known, Vivian found that she, along with Warrant Officer G. Howie and Corporal S. Kennedy, would be the St. Albert contingent, among the eight girls and 67 boys selected from across Canada.

This seven-week course consisted of training days that lasted from 6:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Half of the day was spent in the classroom, and the other half in actual flying training. Vivian underwent more than 10 hours of dual flight before her first solo flight. Before the course was finished, she had doubled that time in actual flying hours. Vivian said, "I cried when I was being towed for my first solo flight, but when the tow plane released me it was absolutely terrific." She plans to fly as long as her funds will allow, and in the spring plans to fly at least once a week.

Vivian Bendick, long resident of St. Albert, followed her brother through 533 Air Cadet Squadron, and may be followed by her younger sister when the time comes. She was among the first St. Albert girls to join Air Cadets in October of 1971, and was the only female to attain the rank of flight/sergeant. She joined the cadets to learn citizenship, to meet people, to make new friends, and because it sounded like fun. During her tenure she attended flying subjects, participated in Squadron sports, and participated in the Precision Drill Team, which was judged the best in the Province of Alberta.

Vivian has officially left the Squadron as a cadet because of age limitation, but has already returned as a volunteer instructor, to help repay the benefits she was so pleased to receive during her four years as a cadet. Additionally, Miss Bendick joined the Canadian Militia at the Prince of Wales Armory, and is just as determined to repeat her successes as a militiaman.

She is now fully employed in a downtown insurance office, and fills what little time remaining that she may have in her favorite hobbies, skiing and reading and writing poetry.

Vivian's successful career as a cadet has yet to be matched and is a challenge to any girls 13 to 18 years, in the St. Albert area.

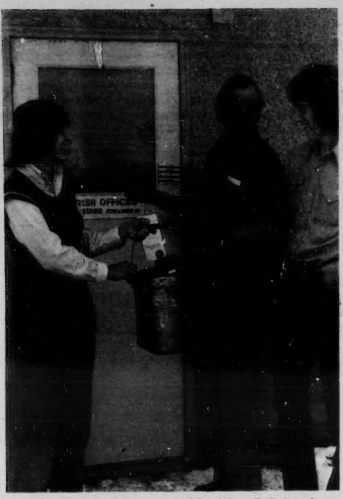
Insurance for spooks



Father Jacques Joly, centre, of St. Albert R.C. Parish, is pointing to a window which St. Albert Movers might have to clean following hallowe'en. Mike Byl, president of the Movers, is dipping a brush into the scrub bucket Barbara Kathol is holding, to show Father Joly that his $1 worth of Spook Insurance will be given full protection.

Pranksters are notorious for choosing hallowe'en to soap windows, plaster houses with eggs or tomatoes, and upset a garbage can or two. Spook Insurance policyholders will be spared the chore of cleaning up messes the next day if their homes have been subject to prankster mischief.

The policy states: "if a policyholder has a claim, advise a member of the St. Albert Movers by calling 458-9939 or 459-4980. November 1, between the hours of four and seven p.m., only, (or policy claim will be void).

Policies may be purchased for $1 from a member of the Movers who will be knocking on St. Albert doors before hallowe'en. The proceeds of Spook Insurance sales will go to the projects of Community Youth Volunteers.

However, if the damage is malicious, involving broken glass or paint, it is a matter for police to investigate.

Arts & Crafts Guild News

The annual Christmas sale will be held on Sunday, December 7 from 2:30 - 4 p.m. at the Community Hall.

To enable people to see all items for sale at a more leisurely pace than before a preview has been planned from 12:30 - 1:30 p.m. During this period nothing will be sold or held. There will be an admission charge for the preview of 50¢ and children under 12 years old will be free. A door prize will be given to a lucky person.

More details will be published closer to the date of the sale.

The sales committee are still looking for helpers on the day of the Christmas sale. People attending classes, as well as Guild members are most welcome to come and help out. There is a chart in the hallway of the Arts Centre, for times when people are needed. Any enquiries phone Lill 459-8860

Artists and craftsmen, other than potters, who would like to sell their work, on a commission basis, at this sale, should contact Carol 458-2110 or Linda 799-3516.

At the last meeting for Ceramic Studio Members it was noted that the cupboard in the Glaze Room for bisqued pots, was bursting to the seams. In a positive effort to clear it out, it was decided that those pots left unclaimed and unglazed after November 3, would be glazed by a studio member at the next meeting, and then put in the Christmas sale.

The next Ceramic Studio Meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 5. The program will be "Glazing, preparation, chemistry and techniques" with Karen Grant and Doug Folkins. The Weavers will be meeting next on Thursday, November 6th at 1 p.m., at the Arts Centre.

littering incidents near the Bonaventure subdivision and another about one mile southeast of the Newman Theological College.

Mr. Sheckter also said there was another similar incident in the County of Parkland and feels that these must be just the tip of the iceberg.

A spokesman for the Department of Fish and Wildlife said Monday that there was nothing in the game regulations which says a person must bring hides out of the bush after the kill. But the Department does encourage people to take out hides and get them cured at a tannery. He referred to a tannery in St. Paul where curing is done and also said that Indians on the reservations were always glad to receive hides for tanning.

However the spokesman did distinguish between leaving the untreated hides in the bush and dumping them afterwards on private property, or road allowances. It is perfectly legal to discard guts and hide on land set aside for dumping purposes, the spokesman pointed out.

Minimum fine for any type of littering is $50.

If Fish and Wildlife officials find anyone dumping hides at unauthorized points they can fine them at least this minimum amount.

The problem is catching the offenders.

Mr. Sheckter is getting tired of people dumping not only moose hides but also most kinds of garbage on his property, anything from a child's playpen to concrete.

In the case of the concrete, that had been dumped fresh, observed Mr. Sheckter and it would have to be broken up with heavy equipment.

If you are reading this and happen to be dumping moose hides -- even in the proper places - remember that you are wasting money doing so.

There are plenty of places and people who would be glad enough to tan and cure the hide and a well tanned hide can fetch a good price, the spokesman for Fish and Wildlife said.

New school planned for District 6 in West Grandin

Trustees of the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District No. 6 voted on Monday, October 20 to submit a statement of need for a new school in West Grandin to the School Buildings Branch of the Department of Education. The new school is needed because the current elementary enrollment exceeds the capacity of Robert Rundle School. Projected population figures for the area indicate an increase due to new construction of homes, construction of homes.

Superintendent Elmer Gish reported on the advantages of establishing a community core school on the West Grandin site. He said that enrollment projections indicate that two elementary schools will be needed to accommodate the elementary enrollment in the Grandin subdivision. Establishing another neighborhood elementary school in the subdivision will eliminate the current practice of busing surplus Grandin students to other schools (Ronald Harvey and MacKenzie).

He added that Rundle School and a West Grandin school would serve conveniently as neighborhood feeder schools for Simpson Junior High which cannot continue to accommodate elementary pupils owing to rapidly increasing junior high enrollment.

Kindergarten children would benefit from the proposed new school. Mr. Gish said that at present there are no local classrooms available in the entire Grandin subdivision for kindergarten children and the construction of another school in this area would provide space for early childhood services classes in both Rundle and West Grandin Schools.

The trustees voted in favour of locating the new proposed new school on the site recommended by the superintendent.

District 6 approves class size and school hours for Kindergartens

Two recommendations concerning class sizes and school hours for kindergarten students were approved by trustees of District No. 6 on Wednesday, October 20.

Firstly, effective on the opening of the Ronald Harvey School, a maximum class size of 20 pupils will be adopted as a guideline to be followed in establishing kindergarten classes. This guideline will have provision for deviation to meet certain circumstances, for example, the availability of classrooms for kindergarten.

Secondly, effective from the same date, the school hours for kindergarten will be from 9:10 a.m. to 11:10 a.m. for morning classes and from 12:40 p.m. to 2:40 p.m. for afternoon classes, with provision for a longer school day after spring break if required.

These recommendations came about following a report on Early Childhood Services by the Assistant Superintendent (elementary) Mrs. Muriel Martin. She observed that young children are sensitive to large groups and that the learning climate was not healthy in these circumstances. In addition, she felt that the present two and a third hour classes is too long a stretch for many kindergarten students, particularly at this time of year and especially in the afternoon sessions.

Board hears vandalism report

Trustee Don Munro reported to the board of the St. Albert School District No. 6 on security and vandalism on Wednesday, October 20. The report covered the major points in connection with vandalism during the recent period.

Apparently, window breakage is down to 25 percent of its 1973 figure. This reduction is attributed to having school custodians on duty on weekdays until late at night and also, the more vulnerable windows have been covered.

The most recent major break-in occurred on August 23 this year at Sir George Simpson School. Costs to the insurer and to the district resulting from this incident totalled $2,750. Prior to that, a major break-in occurred in August 1974 at the old maintenance shop for a total cost in excess of $700. Police apprehensions of vandals followed these incidents.

Deterrents against vandalism include weekend security patrols, schools custodians working late on week nights and co-operation and assistance from the RCMP.

Mr. Munro's report included some recommendations for further improving school security and these were accepted by the board. Some of the suggestions covered the control of money in the schools, the control of students, and winning co-operation of student groups to fight vandalism. Restitution for damage due to vandalism will likely be sought.

Legion plans for expansion

St. Albert Branch No. 271 of the Royal Canadian Legion will be busting soil in the near future when construction starts on a new $500,000 legion hall opposite the old one on Tache Street.

Of the current 475,000 legionnaires across the country, 400 veterans and about 60 associate members are with the St. Albert branch.

In 1976, the legion hopes to enlist one-half million members from the ranks of present-day servicemen and add more sons, daughters, nephews and nieces of legionnaires as associate members.

Only about half of the Canadian veterans who fought in both World Wars are legion members, said the local legion's secretary-treasurer.

"Legionnaires are dying, particularly World War One veterans," said Wally Swenarchuk of 7 Sonora Drive. "Most veterans who enlisted between the ages of 17 and 26 are in their pre-retirement years today.

"Recognition that we soon won't be able to carry on work the legion is committed to, we have to be prepared to hand down the responsibility to our children when they're associate members.

"The Royal Canadian Legion perpetuates on Remembrance Day the memory of fallen comrades who sacrificed their lives in the name of freedom. We are impressing our young associate members with the futility of war," Mr. Swenarchuk emphasized. "Because we didn't want it and don't want our children as future leaders of the country to go through what we did."

Mr. Swenarchuk believes the observance of Remembrance Day will not die out in the next generation.

Farmers were needed at home

Alfred Sevigny and his first wife shared a mixed farm during World War One, right on top of the hill near Oblate Mission.

To ensure adequate food supply farmers were exempted from war service. St. Albert residents were allowed a limited number of coupons, he recalled, for sugar, wheat, beef and dairy products.

"Even though large families found it a little rough," Mr. Sevigny said, "the food shortage here was not as bad as it was in Great Britain.

"St. Albert was small with only about six to 700 people. In small towns, everyone knows each other. And everyone was buying food with coupons at Perron's Store and Victor Lamere's Store."

Mr. Sevigny was too old to enlist during World War Two, but his three sons were soldiers. The oldest served overseas for three years in a cook camp which followed the front line right into Germany.

Another son flew an airplane over Dartmouth, N.S., which trailed targets for practice shots. The third son was stationed out west.

"I also have a son-in-law living in Edmonton who was shot down in Belgium," Mr. Sevigny said. "But not very many of the St. Albert boys who were overseas during World War One were killed in action. I can only recollect one myself."

Seniors look for new ideas

Thursday, October 30 is Bingo day at the Senior Citizens' Recreation Centre (north of the curling rink) and all older folk are invited to come along at 1:30 p.m. Coffee is served after the game.

Card parties and bingos are held on alternate Thursdays. Last Thursday there was a well-attended whist party and several new members were welcomed to the club. The winning lady and gentleman were Mrs. Benoit and Mr. Franche while Mrs. Skrobot and Mr. Vaugeois received small consolation prizes.

After the whist, questionnaires were given out to try and find out what activities and programs members were interested in. These should be handed in at the Centre as soon as possible so that the executive can make whatever arrangements are necessary to ensure that everyone will find something to interest them at the Centre.

The bowling from 11 a.m. - 1 p.m. on Wednesdays is turning out to be a great success. Each week, more people join the fun and after bowling the Centre is within a short walk or drive for coffee and a chat. Phone Mr. Liptak at 459-6568 or Mr. Borle at 459-6215 for information about the Wednesday bowling.

On Tuesday and Friday evenings the Centre is open from 7 - 9 p.m., for "dropping in." There are games to be played, lots of books and magazines to read and coloured television for a favourite program.

Entries coming in for Amateur night

Frank Scott, Chamber of Commerce chairman for the series of four amateur nights in St. Albert reports that entries are coming in for the first show in all categories (dancing, singing and music).

Bob Hudson will be master of ceremonies for the first show on November 14 and a panel of four qualified judges has been selected. In addition to Bob's widely known talents and humour as an emcee, each show will also have a guest performer to round out the program by the local amateur performers.

Cash prizes for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place in each category will be awarded and winners will advance to the fourth and final show, when trophies will be presented for the top winners from the first three shows.

The amateur nights will be held in the St. Albert Community Hall and the second one will be held in January.

Phone Service doubles in 4 years

"Telephone service requirements in St. Albert have more than doubled within the past four years," according to Stan Hunt, Alberta Government Telephones foreman in St. Albert. Mr. Hunt quoted statistics from mid-1971 when there were 3,491 telephone numbers assigned in the community, compared to 7,062 assigned numbers today.

To accommodate business and residential growth in St. Albert, AGT installed additional equipment in the exchange. On Friday, October 17, 1975, the $1.7 million dollar project went into service.

Approximately 1000 more circuits were installed between St. Albert and AGT's switching centre in Edmonton to provide greater access to the city and long distance network. An addition of 5,200 lines increased the capacity of the exchange to a total of 14,000 lines and telephone numbers.

All four "Custom Calling" telephone services, available in St. Albert since July, and push-button calling are features included with the new, computerized equipment addition.

Students deliver power bills

Elmer Beisiegel of the St. Albert Calgary Power office dropped in this week, doing his own bill delivering in the business district. The office has arranged to have power bills delivered in the 20 areas of the town by school students.

However Elmer pointed out emphatically that the boys and girls will NOT collect cheques or money. Bills may be paid at banks, the treasury branch or the Calgary Power office.

Under the company's system bills are due in 30 days and after that there is a 1% penalty added. After 60 days a final notice is sent and the company does have the authority to cut off power after a bill is outstanding 90 days.

If the postal strike continues, and the delivery by students works out well, the company could decide to stay with the delivery system, even when mail service does resume.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO CALGARY POWER CUSTOMERS

DUE TO THE CURRENT MAIL STRIKE, ARRANGEMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE FOR HAND DELIVERY OF POWER BILLS IN ST. ALBERT. CUSTOMERS ARE REQUESTED TO PAY THEIR ACCOUNTS AT ANY BANK OR CALGARY POWER OFFICE.

Slow expansion on 1976 department store scene

At almost the same time, several department store chains are winding up major expansion cycles. A 15 percent increase in the number of stores and retail floor space over the past two years has given the industry a mild case of indigestion.

The slowdown was inevitable considering the recent pace of expansion, but high interest rates and rising construction costs also helped kill the boom.

Following are the expansion plans for Canada's department store chains. (These are related specifically to Alberta where possible).

Eaton's does not plan to open any major outlets here next year. Nearest Eaton's store opening near here was in the Fraser Valley of British Columbia!

The pace of expansion shown by Simpson Sears of Toronto does not appear to be slowing. But that expansion is taking place far away from Alberta. Of the five new stores being planned for 1976 only one is slated for Alberta - in the provincial capital, Edmonton. And even that store is only a replacement for an older store.

Another department store chain, Simpsons, has no new stores planned for next year.

Expansion by Hudson's Bay Company, mainly into Eastern Canada has been gearing down. Three new stores and one renovated store have been put into commission down east, but no further additions are planned for 1975 or 1976.

The Bay operates more than 300 retail outlets in this country, including department stores in larger towns and cities, small town branches and Shop-Rite catalogue stores in Ontario.

Two more stores will be added to the Woodward chain before years end. But only one additional store is planned for Canada to open in 1976 or 1977.

One Alberta town Lethbridge seems to have beaten the freeze when Woodwards opened a new store their last August.

Zellers Ltd. of Montreal has opened seven stores this year. Four of the stores were in small cities in Quebec, two are in small cities in Ontario and one is in Ottawa.

No additions have been announced by Zellers for 1976. Zellers has 150 stores right across Canada.

One bright spot amidst the gloom comes from the K-Mart division of Kresge and Co. Ltd. of Toronto. There are tentative plans to add another 10 K-Marts in Canada during 1976, but there's no word as to which of these might be slated for this province. Nine stores have been added to the chain this year making for a total of 75 in the cross Canada chain.

Woolworth management has said that they expect five new Woolco stores to open in 1976, but of these, three are slated for Ontario.

Another two chains, not really household terms in Alberta, Sayvette and Towers, have had varying fortunes.

Sayvette, described in the Globe and Mail as the sick chain among Canadian department stores continues to cut back rather than expand. By the end of this year, seven stores will have closed leaving four in the chain.

Towers only plan tentative expansion for 1976.

Lady Lions news

A meeting of the St. Albert Lady Lions executive was held on Monday, October 27 at the home of Ronnie Jeffery, President Marilyn Gariepy presiding.

Following reports from the various committees, plans were made for the next regular meeting which will take the form of a dessert party at the home of Elsie Snider, 3 Grosvenor Boulevard on November 10 at 7:30 p.m. Prospective members are cordially invited, if you are interested just give Elsie a call.

The next executive meeting will be held at Judy Simpson's, 2 Swallow Crescent, November 24, at 8 o'clock.

In the 5th century, English sailors wore loose, full-sleeved "sea-gowns" that hung to the knees and were belted at the waist. The first official naval uniform dates from 1604, when James I ordered certain shipmasters to wear long, scarlet livery with velvet trim.

Generals upset league champions 6-5 in exhibition game

St. Albert Standard Generals junior B team sponsored by Standard General Construction started off their first season in the Central Alberta Junior Hockey League with a hard fought 6-5 exhibition win over defending league champions Wainwright Bisons.

Bisons are coached by ex-Edmonton Oiler forward Ross Perkins.

Generals, under coach John Ewen, are the only new members of the nine team league which is regarded as one of the top leagues in the province. Other teams in the league are Vegreville, Edson, Hinton, Jasper, Lloydminster, St. Paul, Grande Centre and Barrhead.

Generals will play a 40 game schedule with their first game being away against Vegreville. Generals won't be at home for their season opener until November 20 when Barrhead will be the visitors.

Both clubs came out hitting in the opening minutes of action and referee Ron Macdonald was kept busy calling 12 penalties, six to each side. When both sides seen that they could not intimidate the other they came up with some excellent end-to-end action that is a trade mark of junior teams.

St. Albert opened the scoring at 14.26 of the first period on a goal by Dave Grice with Ian Langridge and Doug Cinnamon drawing assists. Grice picked up a loose puck in front of the Bison goal and slid it home; for the only score of the period. Generals took a 2-0 lead with only 1.34 gone in the second period on a power-play goal with Bison's Wayne Perkins sitting out a charging infraction. Perkins is an ex-Edmonton Oil King star of last season. Dennis Gagne scored the goal after taking perfect passes from Capt. Terry Kieser and Pat Frewer.

Less than five minutes later Perkins put the Bisons on the scoreboard with a power-play goal as Generals Claude Regimbald was in the penalty box for interference. Bisons struck again only 15 seconds later to tie the game on a close-in shot from Gord Holt. Generals were guilty of some sloppy clearing in front of their goal on the scoring play.

play. St. Albert goalie Ralph Chambers had no chance on the goal.

It didn't take the Generals long to get the lead back as hard working Barry Medori scored at the 7.00 minute mark on a picture passing play with linemates Pat Frewer and Denis Gagne drawing assists on the goal. Referee Macdonald ejected Bison goalie Greg McGinley from the game at 9.42 after he had gone after one of the Generals with his stick. His mouth got him into trouble and he was ejected from the game with a misconduct and game misconduct. Things quieted down a little after this as both clubs tried to play good hockey. Perkins went off again at 9.44 and watched the Generals Ian Langridge blast in a slapshot from the point at 10.39 of the period to give St. Albert a 4-2 lead.

Bisons scored the final goal of the period at 16.51 with Regimbald in the penalty box for another interference call.

General's Coach Ewen changed goalies for the third period to give both some action and the first Bison shot by Perkins with only 56 seconds gone in the period got by Norm Scholz. The goal by Jerry Anderson tied the score at 4-4 but it didn't stand up for long as Medori scored his second of the night at 6.27 to give the Generals a 5-4 lead.

Garry Ferguson scored what proved to be the winner at 13.36 on a power-play goal with Roger Meunier and Kieser assisting on the play. Bisons scored the final goal of the game at 19.36 with the extra attacker as they pulled their goalie for another forward. Generals held off the Bisons for the next few seconds and came up with a well earned 6-5 win.

A good crowd was on hand for the game and it appears the Generals will be able to put on an excellent brand of hockey for their fans.

Generals looked not too bad for their first game in junior action and with a little luck around the net, especially in the opening period, could have ran the score into double figures.

Both goalies, Chambers and Scholz looked very good and should be a big asset to the club in close games. Chambers is a big kid and is very quick with his hands and feet. Coach Ewen was very pleased with the team's performance and is confident of a play-off position.

Season tickets are now on sale at the St. Albert Sportshop at a good price of $10 for 12 games. Regular admission is $1.25 for adults, $1 for students and senior citizens and children under 12 admitted free.

Barons will open league hosting Stettler

St. Albert's Sportshop Barons, with a win and a tie under their belts in exhibition games on the weekend, meet Stettler 4:30 p.m., Saturday in the opening league game of the Central Alberta Midget Hockey League. The action is in St. Albert.

The game, which kicks off a 28-game schedule for the Barons, picks up action right where it left off last spring when Stettler bumped St. Albert from the provincial "B" quarterfinals. Stettler then went on to win the provincial title.

The Barons -- midget representatives gearing for this year's Wrigley midget championship in Grande Prairie at Christmas -- knocked off Leduc 7-4 in Leduc Sunday, after having played Fort Saskatchewan to a 4-4 tie Saturday in Fort Saskatchewan.

The Barons showed good balance and strength in their two exhibition encounters, and outclassed Fort Saskatchewan Saturday evening although only gaining a 4-4 tie.

In Leduc, St. Albert broke open a tightly played contest with three goals in the third period.

St. Albert got strong goaltending performances in both games from Glen McRae and Dennis Lafleur, and their four new defensemen looked right at home as they played strong positional hockey.

Newcomer Larry Sander, up from last year's bantam representatives, scored twice in both games, while Don Ouellette, who played mostly in the midget house league in 1974, picked up a goal and two assists in both contests.

The Barons also got a goal from Blaine Galbraith in their tie with Fort Saskatchewan, while contributing to the St. Albert cause in Leduc were rightwinger Don Wells with two goals and centreman Ron Sander.

Playing with the Barons this year are McRae and Lafleur in goal; Dale Malanchen, Dave Fraser, Murray Riddell, Gilbert Longpre, and Darrel Bokenfohr on defense; while forwards include Real Huot, Graham Brown, Dave Shipanoff, Jeff Harmon, Ken Strand, Ron Sander, Blaine Galbraith, Joe Tworek, Larry Sander, Rick Kreway, Don Ouellette and Don Wells.

Barons games include:

Stettler at St. Albert, 4:30 p.m. November 1st.

Feelings run high at Horse Hill "gaol" confrontation

Feelings ran high at a public meeting October 22 at the Horse Hill school where about 250 people gave input to the Federal Government, mainly against the location of a maximum security penitentiary near Horse Hill.

A comment from the floor, "This end of the county gets all the dirt," summed up the more inflammatory parts of the three hour meeting.

At the meeting were representatives of the MD of Sturgeon, the Solicitor General's Department, the Canadian Penitentiary Service, the Provincial Penitentiary Branch and the Prince Albert Chamber of Commerce.

A 237 person signed petition was handed in to the Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn and the MD's Secretary-Treasurer Alphonse Nobert demanding immediate action by MD council following fears that the 190 inmate maximum security gaol was a forgone conclusion.

At the end of the meeting, Deputy Regional Director of the Operational and Preventive Security Branch of the Penitentiary Service T. J. Ellis was overheard to say to MD officials that any meeting the MD held should be an emergency one.

Just before the end of the meeting a Federal official said that tentative construction date for the maximum security facility would have been April next year, in answer to a question from the floor.

Most people expressed anger at the lack of communication between themselves and the local MD council when they had decided to advertize a "security prison" using the posting method rather than direct advertizing or letters to property owners.

So it was the MD of Sturgeon which seemed to come out worst at the meeting and not the Federal Government who tried to pour oil on troubled waters all through the meeting.

Mr. Nobert stuck to his guns when he faced the packed hall and said that he felt that posting was the best way to advertize the penitentiary. But all he met was a barrage of cat-calls and something which came out like, "Did you tell us to drive out there? (and see the signs).

Perhaps the worst moment came when a member of the audience asked why the MD had said it had sent letters to property owners informing them of development on the 120 acres site. That was in error admitted the secretary-treasurer.

Another member of the audience questioned the honesty of Mr. Nobert who, according to that person, had said in a telephone call that the gaol facility had been advertized in the Gazette, but then said that the publicity had been in the form of an "article."

"I'll leave that to the people to decide how honest that is," the resident continued.

PEOPLE IN HALL SAW NOTICES SAYS NOBERT

Earlier, defending the position of the MD Mr. Nobert said that there were people in the hall who had seen the posted notices and that he had told them to submit their objections.

Mr. Nobert said that after this he didn't receive a thing from any objector. One resident thought that it was a little unrealistic to expect people travelling at 60-70 miles per hour on the highway to stop and look for postings which they didn't know were there.

Local farmer Neil Duggan who headed up the petition from Horse Hill residents was appalled at the prospect of prime agricultural land being eaten up by the proposed development. He said that he was getting 65 bushels of wheat and barley, up to 90 bushels in some cases, per acre on the land proposed for development.

"The worst crime is to pave agricultural land," he said.

Deputy Regional Director for Operational Services for the Solicitor General's Department Brian Geraghty concentrated on the positive aspects of a maximum security facility coming to the area; an area which some members of the audience pointed out already had its fair share of institutions like Oliver and the Fort Saskatchewan provincial penitentiary, where five inmates had recently escaped from the maximum security wing via an unbarred window.

There were more safeguards to the maximum security penitentiary he explained.

Mr. Ellis later filled this out pointing out that such a facility had double fencing, armed guards, armed patrols guard dogs, metal scanners and x-ray machine scanners for parcels. Security at minimum facilities was reduced with one row less of fencing, but still armed guards and patrols. The medium facility, said Mr. Ellis, operated on an honor basis with no fences and security in the selection of the inmates.

Mr. Geraghty explained that it was very much a case of getting local people into maximum security facilities to help rehabilitate the inmates; they were not allowed into the community at large. In return for that he emphasized that there would be ample security to residents for their service.

Looking into the financial aspects of the problem he said the Federal property would give the MD a maximum of $10 million in assessment which would net them $120,000 annually.

Not only that, salary revenue to the area could be $2½ million, he said. However some doubt was expressed from the audience that this would go to local people; they felt that people from Edmonton and Ottawa would see more of that. But Mr. Geraghty said that, about 180 local people might benefit from employment directly as a result of the penitentiary.

Manager of the Prince Albert Chamber of Commerce George A. Rimmer, (Prince Albert is a "prison town") quoted figures to show that over a given period $6 million had been pumped into the Prince Albert economy directly as a result of having a Federal Penitentiary in the town.

NORTHERN ALBERTA PENITENTIARY EASIER ON INMATES

Mr. Geraghty also pointed out that having a penitentiary in this part of Northern Alberta would make it easier on inmates. Many of those, 70 per cent, in the Prince Albert institution were from Northern Alberta and it would seem common sense to rehabilitate them in their own province.

If the people of the Horse Hill area did not want the facility Mr. Geraghty pointed out that someone would have to take on the responsibility somewhere else in Canada. But as to fears that local people would lose their peace of mind over possible escapes - one woman expressed fears for her daughter - she didn't want her raped by an escapee or a gun held at her own head. Mr. Geraghty had the following to say.

He said that not one of the audience could point to any escape in the last three years at major Federal Penitentiaries like Millhaven and St. Vincent De Paul.

To those who feared that the development was going to eat up good agriculture land Mr. Geraghty made it clear that only 16 acres would be turned over to concrete and the rest of the land would be available for market gardening.

But suspicions as to the intent of the Federal Government died hard at the meeting. One resident asked if in fact the Federal Government was not trying to put anything over, why was there not a meeting a year ago?

The resident wanted to censure the MD and said the matter ought to be fully discussed; it might never have been if the media had not got on to the story, he suggested.

He didn't want to see one penitentiary (medium) built then "not have a leg to stand on when the other was built" referring to the maximum institution.

Councillor Lawrence Kluthe for the MD said that there were people living at Coronado as well as Horse Hill when it had been suggested that the prison site might be diverted to the Coronado Sand Hills.

Towards the end of the meeting Reeve Flynn promised that a discussion would be held at the next regular meeting of the MD November 13 and 14 on the prison problem and that the people would not be left in the dark.

However this did not stop one woman in the audience throwing out the accusation that "this is the lousiest council we've ever had" referring to the MD of Sturgeon, adding that she'd had a "lousy" response when she complained about MD road conditions.

Another voice echoed that if the present dispute were not solved then the power lay with the electorate to put in a new MD council.

MD councillor for the Lamoureux area Hubert Lamoureux said there had been some lack of communication and Councillor Walter Van de Walle added that he felt that council was prepared to listen to the people's point of view.

It looks as though the oil will not calm the troubled waters until the MD of Sturgeon meets next month, keeping the people informed of the next move in the Federal Penitentiary drama.

Spotlight on Sturgeon

People nail MD for better communications

The cat is finally out of the bag. Or perhaps it should be termed "The Chameleon."

Last week at a meeting in the Horse Hill School about 250 people and the public at large were left in no doubt that the Federal Government had the intention of building a maximum security prison in a "forgotten" area of the MD of Sturgeon.

At first, description of the facility could be termed open-ended, as nobody, including the MD of Sturgeon had a clue as to what kind of prison the Federal Government had in mind for an area of the MD which is already near the provincial maximum security facility at Fort Saskatchewan.

Not only that, the Horse Hill area also has the doubtful credit of having the mental institution of Oliver within its bounds.

Later the MD of Sturgeon were informed by the Federal Government that they wanted a medium security facility at the Sharpe Farm site, which happens to be on prime agricultural land. Then, chameleon like, the government researchers decided for a change to maximum security.

Our society is breeding crime and of course the criminals have to be put somewhere.

The amazing thing is as far as the public is concerned that none of this - the Federal Government's intent to build a maximum security facility at Horse Hill - would have come to light if it had not been for the news media.

The MD of Sturgeon had posted the site for a medium security facility and apparently very few had seen the signs. But then the MD found it was faced with a decision by the Federal Government to go for the maximum security facility.

What the public is mad about is that from June this year, when the MD knew that the Federal Government had decided to go for that facility, no word came from the MD about the proposed development.

They are demanding now that there is a better communications link between themselves and the MD. And the people at the Horse Hill meeting did not like it when the Reeve of the MD of Sturgeon Bill Flynn called them a bunch of cry babies for what in some cases were very eloquent and well thought out protests.

The representatives of the Federal Government present declined to get involved in local politics. One even gave the impression that he'd done little homework about the Horse Hill area and many a question asked by the audience he couldn't answer directly. Also, considering that the meeting was for input, [presumably] by the public, so that the Federal Penitentiary Branch could make a decision and possibly look for another location for their "hot potato," it seemed odd that no one seemed to be taking any notes. The whole meeting might well have gone into one Federal ear and out the other.

One positive result of the meeting is that the MD told the people that they would make sure the prison problem would get on to its next November 13 - 14 council agenda, and the public will be told of the results.

INTERESTING CROWD at Horse Hills school last Wednesday night to hear all the ins and outs on the possibility of a maximum security penitentiary locating in the Horse Hill area.

REEVE of the MD Bill Flynn kicks off a meeting with the public at the Horse Hill school last week. The issue, a Federal Penitentiary coming into the MD of Sturgeon. Forefront [from left] are: Deputy Regional Director of the Federal Penitentiary Service T. J. Ellis, Deputy Regional Director, with the Solicitor General's Department Brian Geraghty, and right of the Reeve, Alphonse Nobert, Secretary-Treasurer of the MD of Sturgeon.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Sabourin on being grandparents again. Proud adoptive parents of a two month baby boy are Polly and Dan Kilfoil of St. Albert.

Get well wishes are being sent to Miss Raebelle Despins who was operated on this week in Westlock. Hope you're up and about before too long.

Fr. Viel took a 10 day trip to Montreal last week to attend a convention. While there he visited with his many relatives. We trust you had an enjoyable trip, Father.

Robert St. Arnaud took the occasion of his parents silver anniversary to announce his engagement to Miss Lisa Svekla of Legal. Congratulations and best wishes.

ST. ARNAUDS HONOURED

Paul and June St. Arnaud were the honoured guests at the Vimy Community Hall on Friday, October 17, 1975, to celebrate the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary. Some 250 friends and relatives gathered together for this happy occasion put on by the couples four children, Jeanne, Robert, Jackie and Alice.

At the door the guest book had the added attraction of a portrait of the wedding party 25 years ago. Mrs. Mary Bernard sang the Anniversary Song as the couple entered the hall followed by the original wedding party. The hall was beautifully decorated in silver and white. June looked radiant in her long green gown with a yellow corsage and Paul was equally as charming in his green suit. The bridesmaid, Mrs. Jean Wilson, twin sister to June, wore an identical dress in blue.

A supper lunch was served at 11 o'clock. Master of ceremonies for the evening was Mr. Roger Laplante, best-man of 25 years ago. To everyone's amusement, he reminisced on many interesting little stories that happened in the couple's courtship days and early married life. Seated at the head table with the anniversary couple were bridesmaid Mrs. Jean Wilson and her husband Maurice; the grown-up flower-girl, Mrs. Dolores Ward and her husband David; and the best man's wife, Mrs. Jeanne Laplante. The ring-bearer, Mr. Darrell Spockman, was unable to attend.

Mr. Rick Landry, friend, was called upon to speak a few words. He spoke about some amusing antics in the couple's life, relating specifically to the time when his place was known as the "hang-out" to his single friends.

Roger introduced the couple's children, making some interesting remarks about each one. Mrs. Jeanne Kallal, daughter, spoke on behalf of the children, expressing their thanks and best wishes to their wonderful parents. Paul then spoke a few words on behalf of himself and June, thanking his children, the caterers, and everyone for coming to this joyous occasion. His only regret was that several faces that were with them 25 years ago were no longer here. Mrs. Mary Bernard then sang very beautifully the song "Always."

Everyone concluded the evening by dancing to the music of the Satellites, the same band that supplied the music for their wedding.

Congratulations Paul and June and the community of Vimy wishes you both the very best in your years ahead.

The St. Emile's CWL of Legal held their regular monthly meeting at the Recreation Centre on October 22, with eight members present.

The meeting opened with our League Prayer led by Father Bissonnette. Secretary-treasurer Madeline Cornelis read the minutes of the last meeting, and presented the financial statement.

Spiritual convenor Mary Kachurowski read an interesting article entitled "The Value of a Smile." We suggested that "you try it, you'll like it."

Claire Y. Keane next read a little poem entitled "What Have You Done Today?" Something to think about.

Mrs. J. Barry presented us with the study program for the month of October, entitled "Evangelization." She very capably made a thorough research on the subject. We all had a very interesting discussion after.

Mary Quaghebeur thanked Mrs. Barry for a job well done.

A lovely silver cross was given to Claire Y. Keane for her daughter Maymie whose wedding day is coming soon. Two rings on this cross symbolize unity and the oneness of marriage.

It was decided to award again this year a contribution of $10 each to the top students in grades 10 and 11 with the highest achievement in their class on last year's work.

A small contribution as well as a few League Prayer pamphlets were donated so our new families who have moved to Legal recently will know of our CWL and that any ladies wishing to join us can get in touch with any of our members. MLA gives Sturgeon Air Cadets Canadian Citizen talk

MLA Ernie Jamison gave 524 Sturgeon Air Cadet Squadron a lecture on Canadian citizenship last Tuesday at Bon Accord Community Hall. He explained how a new resident of Canada seeking citizenship applies for landed immigrant status.

The cadets were also told that even a baby born in another country to parents wishing Canadian citizenship, has to go before a judge. However, if a baby is born to a service family stationed outside of Canada, its Canadian citizenship is not questioned.

Capt. Snip Loblick said that learning citizenship and the military aspects of a democratic country are stressed by the cadet movement.

His son, W/O Merlin Loblick, is the squadron's oldest cadet. The cadets are between 13 and 17 years old, but the legal age limit is 19.

MLA Ernie Jamison gave 524 Sturgeon Air Cadet Squadron a talk on Canadian citizenship last Tuesday at Bon Accord Community Hall. Emphasis is put on learning citizenship and the military aspects of a democratic country by the cadet movement.

Six of the squadron's 24 cadets are girls. It is the second year girl cadets have been in its ranks.

"If we get more cadets from the area," said Capt. Loblick, "we can do more with a larger squadron. Such as have a group training scholarship. The last couple of years top provincial cadets have been given gliding, power flight and senior leader scholarships.

Sturgeon Air Cadet Squadron is one of 30 in the province. Since it was formed in 1950, the squadron has been active in sports and direct competitions with St. Albert and other squadrons of equal status.

A senior cadet leader may qualify for technical training on aircraft systems and be prepared for the rank of junior non-commissioned officer. Junior cadets enjoy a summer camp yearly at CFB Penhold.

Edmonton, Penhold and Cold Lake CFB's provide power flying instruction for Western Canadian cadets. Forty power pilots were trained last year.

And about 150 provincial cadets received glider training at Rivers, Manitoba last year.

Not all that good

OTTAWA - Smoke detectors do save lives -- but don't be misled by false promises. They are not as sensitive as generally implied and believed. CAC tested two types of smoke detectors - photoelectric devices and ionization devices. It is the first time in Canada this testing has taken place in a true to life environment, a burning house. Results are startling, and carry implications not only for consumers, but for industry as well as governing bodies. Don't miss this report in the October issue of Canadian Consumer.

One of Bon Accord's oldtimers, Mrs. Elora Rigney, widow of W. R. Rigney, passed away on October 17, 1975 at the Aberhart Auxiliary Hospital. Mrs. Rigney was the eldest child of Alex and Fanny Lewis, born at Strathroy, Ontario on October 19, 1885. When she was eight months old, the family moved to Roscoe, South Dakota. Due to the very dry conditions there, Mr. Lewis decided to move to Alberta, spending one winter at Millet before moving to Belmont where they resided for a few years. Elora was then nine years old. In 1888 they moved to Bon Accord where Mr. and Mrs. Lewis spent the rest of their lives farming and later in retirement on the farm now occupied by their grandson Tom Lewis.

The Lewis children attended school in the original Bon Accord school going to the highest grade attainable at that time. Mr. Lewis was concerned that his children should get further education so he, as trustee, then saw that a teacher Mr. H. Martin was hired who could teach Standard 5 or Grade 8. Several Lewis children and other children in the area then returned to school for further education.

Watuning still more education for his children, Mr. Lewis purchased land in Edmonton on what was then Spruce Avenue where he built a small house and a barn. Four of his children lived there and walked to the Edmonton high school which was located west of the present Macdonald Hotel near Jasper Avenue. All of them completed grade 12.

Mrs. Rigney became a school teacher and taught at Excelsior, then went to B.C., where she taught at Rutland, Summerland and Nelson, returning to teach at Bon Accord. Her daughter remembers her often speaking about a Grade 8 class she had there and how pleased she was with them when they all passed their departmental exams. Mrs. Louise Neilson of Bon Accord is the only one of that class still living at Bon Accord.

In 1907, Elora married William Reed Rigney and they settled on a farm north and west of Bon Accord where their son Ray now farms. Mrs. Rigney spent many busy years with all the indoor and outdoor duties that women of those times were occupied with, as well as raising a family of five. She was a member of the Bon Accord United Church. She had little spare time for community activities but was a member of the Willow Spring's Farm Women's Union.

In 1948 Mr. and Mrs. Rigney retired to a farm 2½ miles north of Bon Accord where they continued to keep up their interest in farming and the community. In 1964 they retired to Northway Lodge in Edmonton.

In her retirement Mrs. Rigney was happy to return to dearly loved handicraft work and all her children and grandchildren have some of her work in their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Rigney had five children, Aileen (Mrs. M. H. Pettibone) of Edmonton; Hugh and Ray of Bon Accord and Frank of Gibbons. They were predeceased by their son Arthur in October, 1951. Mr. Rigney passed away in September, 1969. She is survived also by 17 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren, her brother Charlie Lewis of Bon Accord and a sister Mrs. Ledra Davis of Edmonton. Funeral services were held from Howard and McBride's Funeral Home with interment in the Bon Accord Cemetery on October 21. Pallbearers were her grandsons, Donald, Gordon and William Rigney, David Reith Melvin Clarke and her nephew, Dean Lewis.

Better telephone service announced

Hon. Dr. Allan Warrack, minister of Utilities and Telephones, and His Worship Mayor William Hawrelak, announced a new telephone service will be introduced in the Edmonton area to expand communications between the city and 10 neighboring communities. The service, called Extended Flat Rate Calling (EFRC) which replaces long distance, will be progressively introduced beginning at noon Saturday, November 1, 1975.

"Edmonton telephones" customers will have their calling area expanded to include Bon Accord, Fort Saskatchewan, Legal, Morinville, Onoway and Stony Plain. The EFRC project for the Edmonton area is estimated to cost Alberta Government Telephones $8.8 million.

The present expanded local calling area around Edmonton is Ardrossan, Edmonton International Airport, Ellerslie, Gibbons, Namao, St. Albert, Sherwood Park and Spruce Grove.

With Extended Flat Rate Calling service, telephone customers will pay a monthly flat rate charge instead of long distance charges. The flat rate charge is formed on a cost sharing basis, determined by the number of telephone customers in each exchange area and the distance between exchanges receiving the service.

Notification cards will be sent to all telephone customers advising them of the flat rate charge when postal service is restored.

AGT introduced flat rate calling in Alberta to provide less costly and more convenient calling between neighboring communities sharing business and social interests. By 1976, the completed province-wide multimillion dollar project will include 192 calling areas and 217 exchanges.

HOW SERVICE WILL WORK LOCALLY

Following is how the new seven digit monthly flat rate will work for key communities in the MD of Sturgeon.

Legal and Morinville will be able to call Edmonton, the Edmonton International Airport, Ellerslie, Namao, St. Albert and Sherwood Park. The same will apply to Bon Accord except that they can add calls to Gibbons on their list. Gibbons will also have the same service as Morinville and Legal with calls to Bon Accord and Fort Saskatchewan being included in that expended area.

Namao is already in the expanded local calling area including Edmonton, Edmonton International Airport, St. Albert and Sherwood Park.

Added to these places after November 1 will be : Ardrossan, Bon Accord, Calmar, Devon, Ellerslie, Fort Saskatchewan, Gibbons, Leduc, Legal, Morinville, New Sarepta, Onoway, Spruce Grove and Stony Plain.

St. Albert already has an extended calling area including Ardrossan, Edmonton, the International Airport, Ellerslie, Namao, Sherwood Park and Spruce Grove.

After November 1 this will be extended to: Bon Accord, Calmar, Devon, Fort Saskatchewan, Gibbons, Legal, Leduc, Morinville New Sarepta, Onoway and Stony Plain.

AGT say there will be two number changes after November 1st. Gibbons was 799 and will change to 923. Namao was also 799 and will change to 973.

A similar extended flat rate service starts in Calgary, November 1 and also nine neighbouring communities. A 10th community in the Calgary area will join this consortium in December. It is costing $5.3 million for this improvement to the Calgary area telephone service.

THE NEW TELEPHONE exchange in Gibbons and EFRC between Gibbons and Edmonton will be in service November 1, 1975. John Pelchat (above) of AGT uses the computer to check the new electronic telephone equipment.

Crozier-Thomson Wedding

By Norma Crozier

Norwood United Church was the scene for the fall afternoon wedding on September 27, 1975 uniting Colleen Violet Crozier and Alexander Thomson in marriage. Two candelabras and baskets of mums in autumn colours decorated the church The double ring ceremony was performed by Reverend Harold C. Black.

Colleen is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Crozier of Namao and Alex is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thomson of Edmonton. During the ceremony soloists Ron and Diane Nelsen sang "Love Story," "O Perfect Love," "The Wedding Prayer" and "I Walk Beside You." They were accompanied by organist Mrs. W. Kerr.

Given in marriage by her father and mother the bride was radiant in her traditional gown of chiffon and cotton lace tapering into a full train with matching headpiece and veil. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy.

Attending the bride were her sister, matron of honour, Mrs. Carol Robblee, Miss Helen Kok and Miss Jan O'Brian. They wore identical gowns of burnt orange polyester crepe accentuated with their bouquets of daisies and petite carnations.

The groom's attendants were friends Dennis Ryan, Enzo Salvador and Gordon Jarron.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother wore a printed burgundy gown complemented by her corsage of talisman roses. The groom's mother chose a green patterned polyester gown and wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the wedding service a reception and dance were held in the Namao School gymnasium. Mr. Hugh Crozier, uncle of the bride acted as master of ceremonies and also proposed the toast to the bride. Mr. Ron Nelsen sang a medley of songs accompanied by Mrs. Barbara Crozier, aunt of the bride. Colleen presented her bridal bouquet to her aunt, Mrs. Barbara Crozier.

Honoured guests were the bride's grandparents, Mrs. Lorne Akins of St. Albert and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Auten of Edmonton.

Candid pictures of the wedding were taken by Mr. Ken Crozier, brother of the bride, and Mr. Brian Hay, friend of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Thomson are on an extensive honeymoon trip to Eastern Canada, the British Isles visiting relatives in Ireland. They are planning to tour Europe and Asia, meeting friends in Crete for Christmas, and will also visit Australia and New Zealand before returning home.

MORINVILLE MEMOS

By Marg Bentz

Parents will be happy to hear that this year hallowe'en night activities will be supervised by a "Rat Patrol." Drivers, with white cards reading "Rat Patrol" taped to the side of their cars, will be patrolling the streets of Morinville. Any children needing assistance should go to the cars. All children should be advised of this service.

Coaches and assistant coaches are still needed for the following groups: Shavers A, Mites, Bantams and Juveniles. Referees are also needed.

A Referee Clinic will be held on November 15 and 16. Anyone interested in attending school contact Doug Ramer at 939-4565 or Tony Mantyka at Regional Rec. 939-4317.

Ag. Society and Lion's Club annual harvest fest will be held on November 1 at the Recreation Centre. The tickets, $7.50 per person, include beer, beer stein, midnight supper and dance. Dance starts at 8 p.m., with music by the Twilighters. Tickets are available from Ag Society and Lion's Club members and local businesses.

The Guides and Brownies rummage sale, which was held on Tuesday, October 21, was a huge success. First prize of the raffle tickets was a beautiful urn which was won by Mr. Len Gibeau; ticket drawn by Rosella Mandau. Second prize (food hamper) was won by Laura Kieser and her ticket was drawn by Mrs. Nadeau. The Mother's Local wish to thank all the local merchants, and all the people who helped out for making this the best rummage sale ever.

Public skating this week will be on Friday, October 31 from 4 - 5:30 p.m., and on Sunday, November 2 from 4 - 7:30 p.m.

Morinville Legion Ramblings

By John Bulger

I should first like to apologize for the lack of Legion news and happenings over the past few months. However, that is in the past and we must now look to the future for happenings and events for the future months as each one passes by us.

Firstly, as you pass or drive past the Legion these days, you will see some construction being undertaken by volunteers of the Legion and members of other community clubs. Yes, it has finally happened the Legion is undertaking some much needed renovations. I would like to mention a few of the advantages these renovations will provide to the members and those who desire to rent the Legion Hall.

1. New improved and spacious washrooms.
2. Additional heating output with the heat distributed more evenly.
3. New and spacious bar facilities.
4. Increased dance floor area plus a bandstand.
5. Spacious cloakroom facilities.
6. Separate service entrance to kitchen area.
7. Kitchen area to be refinished.
8. Improved lighting.
9. Improved entrance to the building.

The above is just a few of the improvements planned to make our premises more presentable to the members and the public.

Attention, members, if you are handy with a hammer, saw, paint brush, shovel, or even if you should like to supervise or just watch, then the place to be during our renovations in the evenings and on weekends is at Legion. Come prepared to work a little, because many hands will make the work go much faster.

The 1976 membership renewal cards are now available from the membership chairman, Comrade Ron Lambert. We would ask that all members or prospective new members participate in the "Early Bird" program. The "Early Bird" drive ceases on December 31, 1975. Should anyone new in the community or surrounding area wish to join or enquire about the Legion contact Ron Lambert, or any executive committee members for particulars in regards to membership.

In addition to the above any ladies wishing to join the Ladies Auxiliary can contact Audrie Borle, Jo Calder or Pat Krauskopf.

On November 8 we will be holding our annual Remembrance Day banquet and dance at 8 p.m., at the Legion Hall. Food refreshments and music will be available, advanced tickets are now available from any member of the executive committee, at $10 per couple For further information phone Mrs. Joyce Gowler at 939-4421.

On November 11, the annual Remembrance Day Service will be held commencing at 10 a.m., in the Legion Hall followed by parade to the Cenotaph for wreath laying ceremonies. At 1 p.m. you can get together with your friends or better still come and get acquainted with our Legion members at our open house from 1 to 5 p.m. Refreshments and light lunch will be served. Speaking of our Remembrance Day, we mustn't forget our Poppy Campaign. A member of our Poppy campaign will be canvassing the town business establishments so that wreaths can be purchased for laying at the Cenotaph, on November 11. In addition on November 8, several cadets from the St. Albert Air Cadet Squadron, who are residents of Morinville will be parading with poppies for sale to assist the Legion members. We solicit your support in this worthwhile campaign, only with your help can it be a success. The branch will soon be planning for the annual New Year's Ball so keep that date in mind for an evening of frolic, fun, refreshments, food, music and noisemaking and other good things.

Once again it will soon be time for elections, and nominations are now open for all executive positions with the exception of President. Should you have any nominations phone the secretary, Mrs. Joyce Gowler at 939-4421.

Don't forget our annual Grey Cup Day to be held at the Legion Hall on Grey Cup Day, tickets will soon be on sale, refreshments, food and prizes will be available for those who participate. Game will be shown on coloured T.V.

Plans are underway for an auction sale to be held at the Legion, more details on this at a later date. Enough for this week, more to come later. We apologize for any inconvenience caused during our renovations to our premises.

Hope that we will see you and your friends at the Legion in the near future.

Appreciation for Father Fitzgerald

A former Riviere Qui Barre teacher Father Walter Fitzgerald has been given an award of appreciation from the Special Education Specialists Council of the Alberta Teacher's Association.

Father Fitzgerald was granted the award October 17, at the Calgary Inn for service in the education of atypical children and young adults in Alberta.

It was way back in 1957 when Father Fitzgerald was asked to start a guidance program for young people within the Edmonton Separate School system who had been "crushed by repeated failure."

In a speech which Father Fitzgerald delivered at the Calgary Inn, he said that he saw the award as a tribute to the Edmonton Separate School Board "which supported my efforts at a time when most school boards were loathe to spend funds on students who in the opinion of many people had already demonstrated their inability or unwillingness to profit from facilities and services already at their disposal."

Father Fitzgerald told the audience at the Calgary Inn that it was in 1955-56, while he was attending Marquette University on sabbatical, that he decided to think through the slow learner problem. He did a thesis on the subject and it was some lines from an unknown author postscripting the thesis which inspired him to develop the concepts for his slow learner program.

The lines which gave him the inspiration were: "I am only one but I am ONE. I cannot do everything But I can do SOMETHING. What I can do I OUGHT to do and what I ought to do by the grace of God I WILL DO.

After returning from Marquette, Father Fitzgerald told how he developed the basic concepts for a pre-employment program which included the work experience program.

In July 1958 after obtaining the list of students in the school system who had failed the Grade Nine departmental exams, Father Fitzgerald "selected those who were 16 or over and began ringing doorbells."

Nearly all of them had decided to drop out of school, but 19 were persuaded to give it one more try.

The students were to be confronted with the practical aspects of school subjects, provision for shop and home economics courses and some typing.

The academic side of the program would take a practical approach to English, such as how to write a business letter, how to make a simple concise report and how to spell words that would be encountered in the normal sphere of employment.

Father Fitzgerald pointed out how in the September of 1958, the first pre-employment teacher Mr. R. Omoe was faced with a very dejected group of students. Together they had managed to fail 53 grades. Mr. Omoe was asked to watch for the first inklings of success and to dramatize these successes as a way of encouragement rather than have the students brood over the failures of the past.

Father Fitzgerald said that the class soon responded to this approach and soon had hopes that they would be able to take their place in the community as productive members of society.

Moreover when the time came for them to find employment, they had little problem in doing so.

The program flowered so much that even as far back as 1968 a special school was built at a cost of more than $5 million for the developed "Trades and Services Program."

Good teaching, Father Fitzgerald continued in his speech at the Calgary Inn, was the key element for the success of the program.

He mentioned former supervisor of Guidance for the Department of Education Mr. A. A. Aldridge as a great help in getting the new program off the ground.

Mr. Aldridge brought the Edmonton Separate and the Edmonton Public School systems together to develop and refine the program.

And following the success on the local level, the fame of the program spread right through Alberta with other systems trying to make some provision for atypical students.

Father Fitzgerald said that his presentation to the ATA was the high point in his own teaching career.

He retired from teaching two years ago and is now Director of Communications for the Archdiocese of Edmonton.

His weekly television program, "The Open Window" can be seen Mondays and Wednesdays on Channel 10 Cable TV.

FATHER WALTER Fitzgerald, former Riviere Qui Barre teacher, now holder of an ATA award for pioneering a special learning program for atypical students in Alberta.

SECOND ROUND SURVEY

As a continuing part of the Edmonton Region Growth Studies, a second round survey will be conducted during October.

The study sample to be interviewed, representing a cross section of regional opinion, is now being compiled.

Aim of the study is to find out the priority and importance people place on different uses of the region's land.

For example, do they think preserving prime agricultural land for farming is more important than using that land to decrease the development cost of much needed housing.

Those interviewed will be asked to deal with several of these problems. Their responses to the questions will provide the Growth Studies Staff with information which will help them to analyze and weight the region's land resources.

Once this is done, the development of alternative growth strategies will begin.

Get Ready...

This Touch-Tone is shown full size. How fast can you tap the numbered keys? When you try it on the Touch-Tone photo, remember: it's just as quick and easy on a real Touch-Tone phone.

Get Set...

to see how quickly you can tap out a 7-digit number. Of course, in this test you won't hear the musical Touch-Tone notes. But you'll see how fast your fingers are. You'll be just as fast on the real thing.

Go!

Are you timing yourself? Let's make it a "best out of three" test. Touch-Tone can improve your speed every time you make a call!

Now you've proved it to yourself–Touch-Tone IS faster. Two or more times as fast! Not quite convinced? Next time you use a Touch-Tone pay phone, notice how your fingers fly over the keys. You'll agree–Touch-Tone is the fast phone!

Order your Touch-Tone phone today–just call our local business office.
